Community Comment Policy

Welcome to our online community.

This page exists to share the mission, ministry, and daily life of the Church, and we appreciate the many people who engage with us in a spirit of respect and charity.

To maintain a constructive and welcoming environment, we ask all visitors to follow these guidelines:

1. Stay on topic.

Comments must relate to the post's content. Repeated off-topic comments may be hidden.

2. Be respectful.

We do not allow personal attacks, inflammatory language, accusations, or comments that harm the reputation of individuals or the Church.

3. No misinformation or speculation.

Comments that include unverified claims or assumptions about people or ongoing matters will be removed.

4. No repetitive posting.

Posting the same or similar comment across multiple posts is considered spam and may be hidden or restricted.

5. Protect confidentiality.

Do not share personal information, details about private conversations, or sensitive matters involving clergy or parishioners.

6. We will moderate as needed.

The administrators reserve the right to hide or restrict comments that violate these guidelines, at their discretion, to maintain a healthy and constructive public space.

We invite all who participate here to do so with charity, clarity, and respect.

Thank you for helping us foster a positive, faith-filled online community.
