First, please don't file 3 separate bug reports. If you want to add more information to a bug report, please update the bug report you initially filed.

Second, this is an issue when installing the msgpack gem, so you should report it to them: <https://github.com/msgpack/msgpack-ruby/issues>. Looks like an issue with the compiler you are using, it may be older than they support.

I can tell you that you probably don't want the --debug flag. It's likely what is causing the exceptions that are being printed, since debug mode prints exceptions that are raised, even if they are handled. It's quite unlikely your problem is related to fileutils.
